Topic: Online Education in HEIs Concept

We all know that Virtual Teaching is not a substitute for the Real that has all exclusive advantages of being real. Nonetheless, in the current circumstance of physical distancing Virtual Teaching/Learning is the sole alternative, which has already been complementing classroom teaching. Many of us have switched to online teaching but under compulsion and mostly without previous experience. By and large online teaching today is the classroom lecture carried forward to the virtual. It should have been at least a smart classroom teaching rendered as podcast. Differences between online and classroom teaching are not just those confined to the medium and environment. They range across the art or science of teaching, designing of learning outcomes, techniques of communication, ways of facilitating learning, and methods of evaluation. Synchronous instructions replicating on-ground teaching and evaluation in online mode cannot meet these challenges. Teachers have to use online instructional methods/tools such as software driven course designing, web-based instruction, computer-mediated communication, mind mapping, administration of videos, imaging technology, infographic visualization, participatory learning facilitation, hosting the audio/video podcasts, and effective management of digital content. Online teaching without necessary tools and professional competence will compromise quality. It is important for the teachers to be formally accustomed to the art, science and methods of ICT based pedagogy for being effective in Virtual Teaching.
